TRUTH ABOUT TERRY M'GOVERN

Little Brooklynite in Training for Bout with Tommy Murphy Needs Plenty of Work to Fit

BY VINCENT TREANOR. Terry McGovern good? That's

the all-important question these days to local fight followers. It is particularly important to those who have the interest and pugilistic welfare of Harlem Tommy Murphy at heart. McGovern and Murphy are to fight six rounds over in Philadelphia Oct. 38, hence the question of McGovern's ost-season baseball games between the Giants and Athletics, the first of which will be played in Philadelphia Monday. In addition to daily comments by Managers McGraw and Mack and opinions of the rival pitchers. Affen Sangree and Bozeman Bulger, the noted experts, will write graphically of each game. Robert Edgren, The Evening World Sporting Editor and Cartoonist, will illustrate the play. Get The Evening World for the latest McGoverii likes to talk about a prospective opponent, and that is a good sign, but never is he boastful. He thinks Murphy a good boy, and he will be satisfied if he beats him.

During the talk of the little Harlem the some one suggested that Terry ought to beat him easily. "Don't be too sure. They said that when I fought 'Corbett' up in Hartford. I was a 1 to 5 shot then," answered they onetime Gowanus terror. "Murphy is a comer," he continued. "You know what I was when I was coming."

boast of. Terry's eye twinkled at the thought, and for the minute he logged als oldtime self.

Is Alane in Quarters.

To one who has seen Terry in other training periods there is something missing in the little fellow's quarters pow. It is the lack of handlers. In the old days when Terry was king he had trainers galore. They stood around him in twos and threes, ready to carry out his slightest wish. He couldn't even the his own shoes. Sports took long trips to see him, to shake his hand and to wish him luck.

whether or not he is fit to fight as he did of old.

Does Ten Miles on Road.

When the writer saw McGovern the little fighter had just come in from a ten-mile run around Central Park. He was all wrapped up in sweaters, and perspiration dripped from his forehead into his eyes. He had ompleted the run in an hour and a quarter. He said it was easy. He hadn't drawn a long treath, and still he jogged all the way. Profs. Pereirs and Alexanderson accompanied Terry on the road.

After a plunge Terry was rubbed down. It was then seen that his skin, while lacking that ruddy color of the peatistic, with the exception of a patch and clear, with the exception of a patch as might be caused by a stiff rub or work on the mas showed. Aside from this Terry was without a blemish.

Af work in the gymnasium Terry is all action. One sees the same old-time willingness of the little fighter.

Wahoo, the mjured Indian left end, gave way to the plucky Jude, but the indians reserved their usual line-up. State College braced up Quarter-back Moorehead for the same, and hoped that his smooth sighal work would win. The Indians are minus Jos. Liby (injured), whose brother Archie, however, sifusitioned. The Indians average weight was 165; State average, 179.

it all in all. Harvard's varsity is playing better together now than hish her elovens of the past six years, and this with her captain, quarterback and regular right guard laid by with injuries.

Two important changes were made in to-days lineup. They were the playing of Montgomery in Brill's place at left ackle and the playing of Carr in Hanley's place at fail. Montgomery has been "coming" last the last few days and he made a very favorable impression in his new place to-day. (Special to The Evening World.)

This is the first time they have played here since they played the cadets to a standstill, neither side scoring two years ago. All the cadeta were in fine form and, although confident of victory they expected a hard game, orney played to day at the left end of the line. The weather was cool, the wind blowing streight across the gridiron, favoring neither side. Hanlon's tipee was still bad, and Beavers went in at left half. WITHOUT CAPT. REYNOLDS.
